The Gulf Research Meeting (GRM) offers a unique environment to explore matters of key importance to the Gulf region and provides a platform for discussion and dissemination of research in a wide variety of Gulf-related fields, including economic and financial issues, international relations, security, environment, energy and renewable energy, as well as education, labour and social issues. Committed to a high-level academic standard, the GRM’s objective is to help generate solutions to many of the region’s pressing challenges.

8 Years 2010-2017
102 Workshops
1500 Hours of Discussions
340 Workshop Directors
2445 Participants
30 Institutions
1343 Paper Presenters
51 Books Published

Participants from 60 Nationalities
40% of Participants from the Gulf Region

Topics:
- Energy and renewable energy
- Labour and Migration issues
- Economic and financial issues
- Education
- Security
- International Relations
- Social Issues
- Environment

Gulf Research Center www.grc.net